Treasury Wine Estates Head Office Wins National Award

The Treasury Wine Estates (TWE) Head Office in Southbank, Melbourne has won a national award at the Master Builders National Excellence in Building and Construction Awards, presented in Canberra on Saturday night.

FDC Construction (FDC), who completed the construction of TWE's head office, won the award for National Commercial/Industrial Construction in the $5 million - $10 million category, after winning an award for the project in the same category at the Victorian Master Builders Awards earlier this year.

Tricia Op de Coul, Group Property Manager for TWE, was thrilled to hear the news. "We had a vision for the office space right from the beginning, and that was to bring our Vintreprenuer culture to life - one foot in the vineyard, one foot in the boardroom and wine merchants to the world. We worked closely with FDC and architecture firm V-Arc to deliver on this brief and FDC played a great part in delivering us a beautiful office space to work in and bringing our vision to life. I couldn't be more pleased that they have received this recognition."

The TWE project is a 7400 square metre freestanding structure spanning two levels. FDC delivered a fit-out of 5000 metres with 400 workstations, multiple tea points, leisure and entertaining facilities, a library, telepresence rooms, boardroom and a wine tasting room. Combined with high end architecture, the result is a stunning synergy of rustic winery look and feel from a raised floor to the joinery fabricated from red wine staves. For many the highlight is the floor to ceiling wine barrel feature.

Master Builders CEO Wilhelm Harnisch complimented FDC on the award. "The entries in the 2013 National Excellence Awards were of a particularly high standard and it illustrates the excellence of FDC's work that they were able to beat such stiff competition to take out this Award."

The TWE Head Office project was completed in October 2012.
