

Wolf Blass and Wynns dominate at the China Wine & Spirit Awards

Wolf Blass and Wynns have dominated the China Wine & Spirit Awards with Wolf Blass receiving a trophy and five double gold medals and Wynns scoring a trophy and four gold medals.

Wolf Blass Chief Winemaker, Chris Hatcher, is thrilled to receive such outstanding recognition for his wines in China.

“These medal wins are such a fantastic result for the Wolf Blass winemaking and viticultural teams given the wines were awarded for the suitability of the style for the Chinese market - the fastest growing wine market in the world.

“The results are particularly pleasing as the judges were selected from the most important distributors, importers, hoteliers and Sommeliers from all the key regions and cities in China and Hong Kong” he said.

Wynns Senior Winemaker, Sue Hodder, is equally delighted with these recent medal wins.

“These awards honour some of Wynns most classic wines with distinct varietal and regional characteristics, including one of Australia’s most collected Cabernet Sauvignons from the exceptional 2010 vintage” she said.

The China Wine & Spirit Awards are a unique competition as it is judged specifically for the Asian market by key Asian buyers and sommeliers. The CWSA are the only awards in the world judged specifically for the China market and is entirely focused on consumer preferences and demand.

The last CWSA competition received a record number of entries a total of 3,300 from 25 countries.
