Wolf Blass dominates the 2015 China Wine and Spirit ‘Best Value’ Awards.

Wolf Blass awarded 1 Trophy, 17 Double Gold Medals and 6 Gold Medals

Wolf Blass has once again dominated the Australian category at the China Wine and Spirit ‘Best Value’ Awards, taking out a Trophy, 17 Double Gold Medals and 6 Gold Medals across several tiers.

Wolf Blass Grey Label McLaren Vale Shiraz 2012 was awarded the ‘McLaren Vale Wine of the Year’ trophy along with Double Gold. Wines from Wolf Blass’ Yellow Label, Gold Label, White Label, Black Label and Red Label were also awarded Gold Medals and above.

Historically Wolf Blass wines have performed extremely well at all levels of this prestigious competition; having been awarded the ‘Australian Wine Producer of the Year’ in 2013 and receiving one Trophy, five Double Gold and 14 Gold medals in 2014.

Wolf Blass Chief Winemaker, Chris Hatcher, is thrilled to receive such strong recognition across all tiers in China.

“We at Wolf Blass are thrilled with the continued recognition we’re receiving in China. It is particularly pleasing that our wines continue to be recognised for their quality and value.

“As a winery, we thrive on producing award winning wines and it is humbling that Wolf Blass is so well received, and helping pave the way for Australian wines, in the fastest growing wine market in the world.

“Having five Yellow Label wines awarded Double Gold medals is exciting as it shows the quality and strength of this range. It’s also great to see wines from our Gold, White and Black Labels recognised for quality amongst their luxury peers,” he adds.

The China Wine & Spirit Awards is the largest and most prestigious wine and spirits competition in China and is judged specifically for the Asian market by key Asian buyers and sommeliers. The CWSA ‘Best Value’ Awards judge from the highest price points to the lowest, wines & spirits are tasted at price levels. Medals are awarded to represent ‘Best Value’.
