Wolf Blass scores at the 2016 San Francisco International Wine Competition

Wolf Blass has cleaned up at the prestigious 2016 San Francisco International Wine Competition with 32 wines awarded. A special call out to our BLASS, Gold Label, Grey Label, Black Label and Platinum tiers who all received Double Golds.

Now in its 36th year, the San Francisco International Wine Competition is the largest, most influential International wine competition in America and is judged by a prestigious panel of nationally recognized wine experts.

Wolf Blass wines received seven double gold medals* and seven gold medals* amongst the 32 awarded, with wines from each luxury tier represented.

Wolf Blass has enjoyed great success at this admired show in recent times, having been named International Winery of the Year at the same awards in 2015.

Wolf Blass Chief Winemaker, Chris Hatcher is elated with this result from America, the largest wine market in the world.

“Receiving such strong commendation for our wines in the world’s largest wine market is exciting and is particularly pleasing to see new wines like BLASS represented alongside classics like our Black, Grey and Gold Labels receiving Double Golds.

“At Wolf Blass, we pride ourselves on being a world class winery and creating award winning wines that are enjoyed across the world and these awards help further cement this philosophy” he said.
